BANGOR, MAINE.

Are They Dangerous?
the imitations of Pearline?
How are you going to find out? A few washings with them won't show any damage. It's only after some months, when your clothes go to pieces suddenly, that the danger can be seen and proved. Are you willing to risk your own clothes in the experiment?

It is better to be sure that you are safe, by using the original washing compound—Pearline.

All the others are founded upon that. Will it pay to use these imitations? Figure up all that they may offer—prize packages, cheap prices, or whatever it may be—and put it against what you may lose.

Send it Back. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS

For President

BENJAMIN HARRISON, OF INDIANA.

For Vice President

WHITELEW REID, OF NEW YORK.

JOB FRANCIS ELIOT,

For Senator at Large:
THOMAS M. HIDE, of Barnstable,
First District—E. M. GOODALL,
Second District—SIDNEY CHAMBERS,
Fourth District—RODNEY C. PENNEY.

The Boston Sunday Herald has an article in its news columns that indicates the probable redemption of several of Massachusetts' Congressional districts by the Republicans in the election next month. Sherman Hoar had the good sense to take himself out of the race, but his running-mate, G. Fred Williams, is still in the field with an excellent prospect of being defeated.

The Norfolk Club held an enthusiastic meeting at Young's Hotel, Boston, Saturday afternoon, the guests being Congressman Boutelle, of Maine, Gen. Draper, candidate for Congress in the Eleventh Massachusetts District, and Mr. S. N. D. North, Secretary of the National Association of Wool Growers. The Boston Globe says that President Rice introduced Mr. Boutelle "with a glowing tribute to his record and he was given three cheers by the members of the club" after which he discussed the political questions of the day.

The leaders of the People's party in Alabama have caused the arrest of some of the Democratic county officials in that State and instituted proceedings to compel them to appoint a member of that party as manager at each of the polling places. As the members of the People's party were all formerly Democrats they are familiar with the methods heretofore resorted to and propose to checkmate the corruptionists. The political pot is boiling fiercely in Alabama and the situation is such as to cause the Democrats many uncomfortable moments.

The New York World announces in one column that checks are pouring into the Democratic headquarters in response to the begging circular sent out by Chairman Harry, and in another sets up a howl that the Republicans are preparing to buy the state. The World is over doing this thing. All this talk indicates that it is fearful of defeat in its own State and is making the money cry simply to cover its humiliation when the votes are counted. In fact the World has been a good deal of a hoodoo for the Democrats ever since it started out in the spring to carry Rhode Island.

The Democratic attack upon Commissioner Peck has proved a most comical failure. They have kicked up a tremendous fuss, the only effect of which has been to advertise their own humiliation, as the lesson of the report has not been shaken in the least. The World inaugurated one of its brilliant campaigns to ridicule the report and with this object in view sent a corps of its young men travelling over the State to obtain statistics. When they returned notes were compared and it was found that the World had expended its money with no other result than to confirm the report of the Commissioner. It is needless to say that the figures were not published.

William Cutz, of Buffalo, is at the head of probably the largest marble and onyx works in the country. Four years ago he voted for Cleveland, but this year he will vote for Harrison. With the protection afforded by the McKinley tariff he says: "We are able to purchase our marble and onyx in Mexico and manufacture it in Buffalo, giving employment to hundreds of well paid workmen." In Mexico the marble workers average thirty cents a day while in the U. S. works they are paid three dollars a day. The Democrats would subject the marble workers in this country to the competition of the cheap labor in Mexico. A vote for Cleveland is a vote for free trade.

Cleveland Scored by an Independent.

Mr. Henry C. Lea, of Philadelphia, has a letter in the New York Independent that will not prove pleasant reading for the Cleveland Mugwumps. He discusses the political situation from the standpoint of an independent who has had his eyes opened to the true character of the Democratic candidate. He is an earnest advocate of civil service reform and does not hesitate to criticize the administration, but finds that the record of the President is much better than that of Mr. Cleveland, whose earnest anti-election pledges were so scandalously negatived by the unprincipled orgy of patronage that disgraced his whole administration, when the executive power was prostituted, not only to reward his followers, but to control political conventions and legislative action in support of his personal policy.

We feel it safer to trust the return to the coldness of Mr. Harrison than to the hypocritical gush of Mr. Cleveland."

Taking up the tariff question he finds that the Republicans have taken an honest position in favor of protection and that the candidates stand squarely on the party platform. The Democrats on the other hand are engaged in a gigantic game of bunco with Mr. Cleveland as the bone-steerer-in-chief. To satisfy the free trade sentiment of the South and West, and to placate the Alliance, the Chicago platform borrowed a plank from the Montgomery Constitution and declared it a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the Federal Government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue only. This is emphatic and unmistakable; no one can vote for the candidates placed on this platform without giving his assent to the constitutional principle asserted, and without affirming his readiness to see every protective duty at once repealed and the customs revenue raised, as it readily can be, from a conservative few articles.

A DESPERADO ESCAPES.

Noted Train Robber Breaks out of Prison But is Recaptured.

AT BOSTON, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Oliver Charles Perry, the train robber, was carried into effect the threat made when he entered Auburn prison, that he would not remain to finish his sentence. He had added another to the long list of desperate deeds which have brought unenviable fame. His latest escapade was to escape from his guards late this afternoon and so far he had succeeded in eluding his searchers.

He had been with the keepers some months ago when he drew knife and dared them to approach him. Perry has been confined in a strict cell and kept under the closest surveillance. So strict was the watch that an officer was stationed in front of his cell when the other convicts were marched to and from the shops that he might have no communication with any one.

Not even the prison guard was allowed to converse with the desperate little train robber.

Perry's cell was located in the basement of the north wing. The cells on either side were occupied by men who work in the shops, and through one of these Perry made his escape by digging through the brick wall separating his cell from theirs.

At 1:45 this afternoon, Keeper Willard, an ex-assemblyman from St. Lawrence county, who has been only a short time on the prison force, gave Perry his supper. Nothing unusual was noticed at this time by the guard, excepting that the prisoner escaped. In Great Good Measure and more sublimate than at any time since his entrance into the institution. This was the last seen of the wily bandit.

At 6 o'clock when the other convicts were marched out of the shops, a man named Edmunds, who occupied the cell next to Perry's, reported that there was a hole through the dividing wall.

A hasty examination by the officers confirmed the report. A towel had been pinned over the opening in Edmunds' cell to conceal it. A glance into Perry's cell revealed what appeared to be his form stretched on the cot, but closer inspection proved it only a dummy.

When he went out from the building on which he was as yet a mystery, Warden Duran maintained that he is hidden inside the walls, but many of the keepers express the belief that he is safe outside and beyond their reach.

The walls about the institution are patrolled by a double guard, as well as the yard inside, while a party of men officially are searching every available hiding place.

What instrument was used by Perry in the wall?

He is in excellent health. The distance which he has suffered since he entered the prison has been alleviated and he is well prepared to withstand a siege as a stout fellow. The city is greatly excited over the affair and the prison gate is constantly surrounded by a large crowd, who gaze open-mouthed upon the familiar walls and speculate as to whether the convict is inside the walls or not. Rumors wherever it is discussed, which is everywhere, there is a crowd and many stories are told.

Warden Duran is greatly worried over the affair and is making every possible effort to recapture the fugitive. If he has not succeeded in getting outside the wall, his discovery is on a question of few days, as it will be next to impossible to close the double fence of guards.
